WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT. 20, 1880.

THE LOCAL CAMPAIGN.

HUMOROUS VIEWS OF REPUBICAN FIASCOS. DOWN IN THE LOWER END.

THE MEETING AT MONTEREY. Fun for the Farmers. On Wednesday evening October 19, the Republicans of Drumore, expanded with oy at the news from Indiana, which news by the way but serves to spur up our Democrats and put new life into our local campaign, held a meeting at Chestnut Level, with the most satisfactory results to the Democrats. The Marticville band furnished music and Mr. William Brosius and Dr. Gatschell and James Collins furnished the multitude of about three hundred, not counting Democrats, with "taffy." The band expected to be met by the influential citizens of the honored town, and paused a little way outside and waited. At length lanted them in with all the grace of a Chesterfield. Soon after " Night dropped her sable curtain down, And pluned it with a star,

Bill Potts traveled out to them, tendered them the freedom of the town, and gal-the delegation from Murphy's Loupe came in, headed by Jake Archer, Bill Waters, John Harris and George Cook (colored all) and flanked by Joe Dubree, while Adam Ranck, the little miller, dodged along in

" lley, the dusty miller, And his dusty coat; He will vote a nigger, Or he'll spend a groat," Soon quite a thrill of excitement ran through the immense crowd and swayed it to and fro, like unto the manner in which a mud puddle is agitated by a bull-frog. Upon investigation it proved to be a delegation from Britain, winding its long length of fourteen wagons down Sam Rogers's hill, reminding one of the companies of boys often seen on summer nights marching up our creeks gigging eels. Only two houses in the village were illuminated, it requiring the concentration of all the Republican candles of the village to light the two, and the others had to pass for temples of Democratic faith. A Republican told us the candle story, so if the smoke should hurt any one's eyes he must remember it comes from a "loyal" fire. John Long was chosen chairman of the

he is the man who spent some Lancaster statesman's money for him at the Drumore primary last summer, and even spent eleven doflars "out of his own pocket" and never got it back, and was "mad as a hornet" about it. Long would never do such a thing as that—he wouldn't. Wm. Brosius was introduced as the first speaker, and threw off some of his peculiar political ideas for about half an hour. Brosius is the best Republican in the lower end and would like to go to the Assembly, but being so good as he is, can't get more than half a show at the nomination-a blatherskite like Dr. Gatchell pleases our Republicans much better as an office-holder. Brosius's loyalty to his party, is little short of devotion, which is not enough, however, to make the party divine even if it is worshiped. He is the pleasantest, fussiest little fellow in the world, and it is really a pity he is a Republican. To know him one would suppose there was something better, brighter in him, but it seems as if the under-tow of the "tide in the affairs of men" will forever drift him all askew. He will meet such a man as Gatchell on the stump as an equal, without a seeming qualm of pride, while Gatchell would sell him out for a tin cup full of hard eider.

Next Dr. Gatchell took the store box and talked till everybody was tired and every soul sick of his palaver. The doctor said afterward that he didn't himself believe half he said, "but anything would do for those fellows." He confined himmore truth in either of these reports self principally to the review and misrepresentation of the Democratic speeches he had heard a couple of days before "down which have been about as full of lies as at Quarryville." He constantly referred to "old John W. Forney," "Baron Steinmentz," "Bill Hensel," and "that there repentant rebel." Pennsylvania's history contains the do tor's public record,

He drank large quantities of water, remarkthe truth; made Thomas Jefferson the author of "Get thee behind me, Satan;" but the doctor reassured them soon that ballot. there was no danger. And they came doctor. James was just from Lancaster outside of the crowd. It was suggested that Harrison Potts sing a solo, but that was laughed down and Harrison didn't sing. With four cheers for the Marticville band, with Frank Scott's voice wailing over all, the thing closed. The Meeting in Fulton. The meeting at Wakefield on Saturday evening had a very fair-sized attendance counting the Democrats, who were led there by the same attraction that would take them to a minstrel or a monkey show, and right well were they entertained. The meeting in the evening was a continuation of the one in the afternoon, with a repeti-tion of the same speeches, which, like salt, lost some of its flavor to those attending both. Your correspondent was there in the evening, and upon request of Mr. Levi N. Brown and a great many other friends to whom it is always a pleasure to see the truth in print, and who always look into the INTELLIGENCER to find it, took a few notes. It was proclaimed throughout the land that the "Buckeye Blacksmith" would be there and ring his hammer ou the cast anvil of the Republican mind. His bellows was full of wind, public opinion worked the pole, but the old B. B. didn't keep his fire well covered up, and much of the heat passed off like smoke, and when he did get an iron hot the hun- from this Republican stronghold crowded

war; that a gallon of whisky made sixty Republican, but Dr. Gatchell shook his head at that; that the Republicans should have elected the "Buckeye Blacksmith" had to quit for want of hearers. Jake have elected the "Buckeye Blacksmith" president that time instead of electing Mr. incoln; that he would have hanged every one of the "dirty rebels, nor forgiven candidates, some one suggested to Jake one," and a minute after turned his eyes that he had better quit, which advice he to the moon.

"On high, Hung like a gem on the brow of the sky," and thanked the great Father in Heaven, who commanded us to love our enemies. that he had been permitted to live to vote for a praying Christian candidate. Be the reputation of the old blacks with what it may, his speech was a repetition of falsehoods, bad pronunciation and worse grammar and rhetoric; full of accounts of his own exploits and self commendatory clause s pitiably absurbed and disgustingly foolish. He is either an egotistical old fool or a childish old man, "supercilious and insolent, without the fear of being punished."

Then came Dr. Gatchell, white vest, swallow-tail coat, stove-pipe hat and all. The doctor was full of fire—not Promethean fire—fire-water. He spread himself out largely and was enthusiastically cheered by a great many boys and a goodly number of old men, who, except in a political campaign, blush to say he is a Republican While Gatchell was grinding out his Chestnut Level speech with the variations the scarcity of water around Wakefield would suggest, the Drumore delegation came in. Composed of fifteen boys and twice as many voters, two colors predominating, but so beautifully blending and commingling that it was difficult to tell just where each left off or the other began, it created quite a sensation. We know some of these Fairfield bloods" of the company were highly pleased with their dusky companionssuch a combination of refinement, intelligence and grace. What a boon to wear the white cap and cape of a Drumore Republican! What a pity you have to associate with them, pet, patronize, flatter, fawn to get their votes—hey boys? Then our brave boys were made to stand out in a tobacco patch while the Buckeye blatherskite was blowing off, without hearing him, till a procession was formed to meet the Oxford braves at Westbrook, and they

One attractive feature about the procession was two white men blackened and dresed as negro wenches, each with a broom and hanging on the arm a white man-or person. Considerable speculation was exercised as to just what those wenches were to symbolize. Some said it was to portray the future amalgamation of the races; others, that it was to "ridicule the niggers knowing the idea wouldn't get through their wool till after the election, others again said it meant a clean sweep of the Democratic party, others said it was to represent the mass of ignorance of their party. Any way it was a satire on themselves, and music to our ears. Byron tells us something about the eagle wounded by an arrow feathered from his own wingsubstitute buzzard for eagle and you have for the Fulton Republicans. After Gatchell had made a second speech, Representative Landis, who had been "standing back like a bound boy at a husking," was brought forward and spoke of the cheering aspect of the Republican sky. Evidently Mr. Landis thinks the nasal organ the organ of communication on the Fulton stump, and received his applause from his own voice. Meeting adjourned to meet the day we Democrats elect Hancock. The Republicans at Quarryville . When the Democracy of the lower end resolved to have a meeting at Quarryville, they advertised it and held it, had a tremendous crowd, and when the Republicans saw it, they resolved not to try to hold a day meeting, but got up a grand torchlight procession, and after it is over that truthful sheet, the New Era, says they held "the largest meeting ever seen in than there is in any of their reports of any of their meetings of this campaign, have been such demagogues as Gatchell, r such fish women as Billy Weaver, or as unscrupulous a lawyer as Tom Davis, who were the orators of this occasion. Gatchell, who was present at the Demoback and heard Jim Collius follow the cratic meeting on Tuesday, had the face to tell his hearers that Forney said "Indiana would give 30,000 Democratic maand couldn't stand it long, so he spread diana would give 30,000 Democratic ma-out his fingers over a couple of darkey's jority," and his auditors know he lied, as heads and asked a blessing which fell short did he himself, for Forney said nothing of of the circle of amused Democrats on the the kind. Of Davis's speech little need be said; everybody knows him as do they little Billy Weaver, who is the next candidate for district attorney and is now bidding for it. If the Republican county committee of as intelligent a county as Lancaster cannot furnish better speakers to an average audience as that at Quarryville, they had better close up. It is honestly the opinion of the Republican voters of the lower end, and they so express themselves. Among the transparencies in their pro-cession we noticed, "We pay no rebel debts." This we think good and would to pay some of their own little debts, as did one of their orators at Oxford, who tried to slip out without paying his treat at one of the hotels at that place at their late parade there. Republicans at Monterey. The following report of the recent Republican meeting at Monterey is sent us by a prominent Republican of Ephrata

recommend it to their speakers who forgot

The Republican rally at Monterey W. 8 a complete failure, except as regards the quantity of whisky and beer drank. The enterprising tavern keeper, Mr. Sheaffer, had two bars in full blast, and it was amusing to see how the stalwarts gry fire-eating Republicans would open around the bar instead of listening to the dry speeches. At no time more than a dozen or fifteen men, outside of the band, May be consulted on all diseases by mail. were listening to the speakers. Mr. Ken-He said he was eighty years old and was very popular, but couldn't tell why (and I'll swear I can't); where he had spoken in his time, and what he had said, and why he had said it; that he had been to the Black Sea and in Virginia; recommended the ledies to have nothing to do with the ledies to have nothing to the speakers. Mr. Kennedy tried to amuse the crowd by getting off a portion of the speakers. Mr. Kennedy tried to amuse the crowd by getting off a portion of the speakers. Mr. Kennedy tried to amuse the crowd by getting off a portion of the speakers. Mr. Kennedy tried to amuse the crowd by getting off a portion of the speech of Tom Marshall, of Pittsburgh, delivered in the court house at Lancaster, and by cracking Jake Amwake's stale jokes, but he utterly failed. Mr. Fry next tried to get off some the ladies to have nothing to do with the young Democrats, as they were always edly unpoetic turn, he gave up in disgust in wanting a change (he wasted his sweet-ness there, as can be proven); told them next got talking about the rebel claims,
